

Sher Tran

Legal Administrative Professional in Training

Six-plus years of administrative, project management, and creative direction work behind growing organizations — now focused toward supporting attorneys and firm operations.

Professional Background

Sher Tran is a detail-oriented administrative professional with six-plus years of experience supporting small and mid-sized business clients through executive-level coordination, document preparation, and client communication. She is recognized for precise, confidential handling of sensitive information, proactive problem-solving, and managing competing priorities without errors.

Across that time she has moved between administration, project management, creative direction, and marketing — not as separate jobs, but as one continuous practice of helping ideas become organizations, and organizations run well. She has helped build the operational backbone of an international online school, co-founded and directed a tea house and community space, and supported a roster of freelance clients with the writing, systems, and follow-through their businesses depend on.

She is currently completing a Bachelor's degree in Philosophy at Foothill College (3.8 GPA) while working full time, with a transfer to UC Berkeley planned for 2027 alongside a paralegal certification — and is seeking a legal administrative role where accuracy, discretion, and strong organizational skills can directly support attorneys and firm operations.

SKILLS, TOOLS & EDUCATION

What the work draws on

Administrative & Office

- Document prep & proofreading
- Confidentiality & discretion
- Calendar & inbox management
- Data organization & tracking

Communication & Content

- Copywriting & editing
- Creative direction
- Client & vendor communication
- Project management

Tools

- Microsoft Office
- Google Workspace
- Trello / Monday / Asana
- GHL & Klaviyo
- Teachable

Legal Administrative (in progress)

- Confidential document handling
 - Client intake & communication
 - Process & accuracy under deadline
-

Education

Bachelor's Degree, Philosophy

Foothill College — transferring to UC Berkeley, 2027 · GPA 3.8

Paralegal Certification

In progress — expected 2027

EXPERIENCE

Work Experience

I

Freelance Administrative, Marketing & Operations Consultant

Self-Employed — November 2019–Present

Primary point of contact for 3–10 clients weekly, managing correspondence, scheduling, and reporting; built a consolidated tracking system across Sheets, Drive, GHL, Klaviyo, Trello, Monday, and Asana; wrote and edited marketing copy and client communications; coordinated podcast outreach for two clients from first contact through the recorded episode.

II

Co-Founder & Creative Director

Drishti House — Santa Barbara/Montecito, CA

Co-founded and led creative direction for a tea house and community space; managed day-to-day operations including event planning, staff training, and vendor coordination; oversaw brand identity and community programming from concept through execution.

III

Chief Operating Officer

Yogamu — Remote (International), 2020–2021

Built the organization's online class and teaching platform from the ground up on Teachable; managed CRM systems for student and teacher records across time zones; ran onboarding calls with recruited teachers and students; oversaw day-to-day operations for the school's international delivery.

Growing a channel to 100K

Freelance client — Igor Galibov, YouTube

Challenge

A talented, prolific creator with strong content but a channel that hadn't yet found its full audience — growth needed structure, not just more videos.

Approach

As part of her freelance consulting work, managed recordings, editing, uploads, and reporting on a consistent schedule, and wrote copy and communications that gave each upload a clearer hook and audience.

Result

The channel crossed the 100,000-subscriber milestone, turning steady content into a durable, growing audience.

100,000+ subscribers reached

Launching a school without borders

Yogamu — Chief Operating Officer

Challenge

Take a yoga school physically based in India and give it the technical and operational framework to recruit, teach, and hold students anywhere in the world.

Approach

Built the class and teaching platform on Teachable from the ground up, managed CRM systems across international time zones, and ran onboarding calls and scheduling for recruited teachers and students.

Result

An international online school with real operational infrastructure — teaching, records, and communication running across time zones as one coordinated system.

Global student & teacher base, built from scratch

Building a place, and running it

Drishti House — Co-Founder & Creative Director

Challenge

A tea house and community space in Santa Barbara/Montecito needed both a creative identity and someone to run it day to day.

Approach

Co-founded the venture and led creative direction, from brand identity through community programming, while managing operations — event planning, staff training, and vendor coordination.

Result

A working tea house and community space, with a clear identity and the operational systems to run it consistently.

One venue co-founded, directed, and operated

Let's Connect

Seeking a legal administrative role where accuracy, discretion, and strong organizational skills can directly support attorneys and firm operations.

Name — Sher Tran

Email — transher@student.foothill.edu

Phone — 619 838 7373

Location — Berkeley, CA